HAWAII EXPECTS HOT FIGHT FOR OFFICE SHERIFF

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

HILLO, Hawaii, Nov. 10.—That there will be a very lively contest for the shirality of the county of Hawaii in the near future is the tip that is going the rounds. Sam Pua, the present sheriff, will, of course, run for office again and he will rely upon the efficient manner in which he has cleaned up the county of all the criminals wanted for various crimes. The sheriff boasts that he has succeeded in arresting every man who has committed a serious crime in the county.

Against Sheriff Pua there will be entered W. K. Keolanui, who at one time was sheriff of the county and who, two years ago, made an unsuccessful attempt to defeat Pua. It is predicted that Keolanui will make even a stronger bid at the coming election than he did previously.

Another man who is expected to run for sheriff is Supervisor Julian Yates. He will, so the story goes, make the running for Keolanui and split Pua's Kona and Kau vote so as to allow Keolanui to slip in under the wire a winner. Yates has not the slightest expectation, it is claimed, of being elected sheriff of Hawaii, but it is whispered that he has his eye on a certain deputy sheriffship that may possibly be given him if Keolanui is elected.

The bitter fight that has been going on for some months past between certain factions is sure to become more severe as time runs on and election day approaches. Stories of all sorts are going the rounds and quite a number of them have to do with the sheriff's department, control of which is ardently desired by several persons. However, there will be developments in the near future and something very interesting may be divulged. As it now stands Sheriff Pua surely has a tough fight on his hands to retain his office.

HIGHER COST OF
PAPER MAY ADD
TO MEAT PRICE

If the price of paper keeps going up the price of meat in Honolulu will probably jump also. At least that is the expression of A. T. Longley, superintendent of the territorial marketing division, who bemoans the fact that heretofore almost negligible articles such as wrapping paper and string are becoming matters of concern.

"We enjoyed the largest trade in the retail meat business Saturday since we established that department," he says. "This is largely because the people are coming to know that if they come here in their cars and pick out with them they can save money as well as get just exactly what they want."
Longley is afraid he will have to raise the price of meat, however, if the price of paper does not behave. He took a handful of ordinary wrapping sheets this morning and weighed them. There were about 14 sheets and they weighed one pound.
"That much will probably wrap about 10 two-pound orders of meat," he said, "because it is necessary to place two sheets around some cuts. That is an additional cent for the two pounds or a cost of one-half cent a pound for wrapping."

I HEARD A CAMPAIGN SPEECH

I'm mighty sorry for this land—
Hain't nothin' been done right;
Things has gone wrong on every hand—
We've got too mighty tight
When we had our butted in
And made the eagle screech—
Not so around to count our tin—
I heard a campaign speech!

Our country is serene and calm,
With all the world at peace,
Enjoyin' life—hain't come to harm.
Our trade—what an increase!
"He kept us out of war," they say—
"Can rule as well as teach!"
Why make a change? It wouldn't pay—
I heard a campaign speech!

Some stuff they talk is purty punk—
It don't go down right well;
What part of it is true or bunk,
How be I goin' to tell?
I've read 'bout all that there is wrote—
Got every pint of view;
Waal, waal, how be I goin' to vote?
Same as I allus do. —H. E. F.

eggs and costs you less

The above analysis is on every sack of Surelay.

"What's on the Sack is in the Sack, and that's what's in the Egg." When you feed Surelay, the balanced egg food, to your chickens you give them the very elements that the egg is made of.

Surelay makes hens healthy. And a healthy hen is usually a laying hen—if the feed is right.

To obtain a perfectly balanced egg feed takes time, knowledge and scientific effort. More than that—it will cost you more than if you bought it ready-mixed.

SURELAY
BALANCED EGG FOOD

is made almost entirely from the by-products of the great Sperry Mills and in its manufacture the same rigid rules of cleanliness and sanitation are observed as in the making of the famous Sperry products for human consumption.

Ask about the Surelay
Coupon in every sack.

The more Surelay you buy, the cheaper you get it. There is a coupon in every sack, fifteen of which are good for one Free Sack. This reduces your cost approximately 15 cents per sack.

Ask for the Booklet,
"Makes Hens Happy."

We will send it to you free. It contains valuable facts about the raising of chickens.

Fill out the coupon and send for it to-day. Address all communications to the Stock and Food Department.

OIL KING HAPPY AS CHURCH GIVES MISSION $2000

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Contributions at a rate of $100 a minute for 20 minutes were pledged for foreign missions at the Euclid avenue Baptist church as John D. Rockefeller smiled his approval. The only part he took in the proceedings was to congratulate Joseph Church, Jr., the youngest donor, who gave $5. Joseph, who is only 14 months old, did not seem especially interested in either the gift or congratulations.

Wednesday, November 15, will be the last day for paying taxes without penalty. After that date 10 per cent will be added. Take your bill with you when paying. Payments must be made in U. S. gold coin or certified check. Make separate checks for Honolulu and country districts.—Adv.
